Before the commencement of UUCMS Architecture students had an option to take odd and even semesters examination together in each and every semesters along with carry over system, and this option helped the students to clear the backlogs conveniently. In 2020 regulation carry over system (detained system) was not permitted. And after the commencement of UUCMS during 2021 Architecture students were not given an option to take the odd and even semesters examination together like previous batches. They are allowed to take only odd-odd and even-even semester examinations separately. Due to this students are finding difficult to clear the backlogs.
